

Susan Nathan Crosses the Divide

Noted Israeli author Susan Nathan describes herself as “breastfed on Zionism.” In The Other Side of Israel: My Journey Across the Jewish-Arab Divide, Nathan presents a vivid portrait of herself, a Jewish Israeli, whose growing awareness of apartheid within Israel compels her to move to a Palestinian town within the Israeli state to bear personal witness. Following her North American speaking tour, Nathan will testify at the International Court of Justice at The Hague.

3 OCTOBER 08

7 PM

STEELWORKER'S HALL

25 CECIL STREET

(1 blk south of College, 2 blks east of Spadina)

$10 DONATION OR PWYC

Free parking in rear

For more information: info@nion.ca or www.nion.ca

THE OTHER SIDE OF ISRAEL

Sponsors

- Nion - Not in Our Name:
Jewish Voices Opposing Zionism
- Independent Jewish Voices (formerly ACJC)
- Holy Land Action and Awareness Group of Toronto Conference of United Church
- The Muslim Unity
- Peace and Social Justice Committee of The Society of Friends (Quakers)
- Canadian Arab Federation
- Stop the War Coalition
- Women in Solidarity with Palestine
(formerly JWCEO)
- International Women's Peace Service
(IWPS)

Endorsors

- Coalition Against Israeli Apartheid (CAIA)
- Palestine House
- Science for Peace
- Zatoun
- Ontario Public Interest Research Group
(OPIRG)
- Educators for Peace and Justice
- Teachers for Palestine
- Middle East Working Group of Trinity-St.Paul's United Church
- Yosher Jewish Network for Social Justice